

Dave Potter

Following the release of his Summit Records debut CD "You Already Know" in the fall of 2017, Potter has emerged as a leader with a unique style focused on blending the past and present history of Jazz with a watchful ear towards the future. Upon first listen, one can quickly hear the powerfully energetic swing and rhythm that caught the attention of NEA Jazz Master Jason Marsalis, with whom Dave has toured and recorded with for the last 11 years. Without a doubt, Potter has managed to find a concept that is able to resonate with audiences of all ages including life-long Jazz aficionados and first time listeners alike.

"With You Already Know, Potter shrewdly mixes it up, both in terms of line-ups and direction. When all is said and done here, Potter leaves us with an appreciation for his work as soloist, composer, leader, and rhythmic pillar. He does it all, and he does it well."
